

THE DETECTIVE FILES

Volume 1 Issue 6 November/December Newsletter December 14, 2019

Introduction

Greetings my fellow writers and authors. Winter is nearly here upon us. It is that time of year again Almost Christmas time. Hope you all had a good thanks giving. Not too much has gone on except for me spending more and more time in the classroom as a sub. That being said I am still looking for an opportunity to work in the classroom full time and help make a difference in the live's of kids.

That being said here is a reminder. My first novel Emma Stevens and the Lord of Crime was released in May and I am now in the process of beginning to work on the sequel as well as on a kid's detective story (Which will be part of a series) and a Young Adult high fantasy series. The kid's detective story/series will be Abbigail Wilson the Kid Detective with the first book being Abbigail Wilson and the Masked Bandit and my YA series will be Verity Chronicles: the Jungle Master, the Witch Doctor and the Demon Lord.

Some of you have already had the pleasure of getting a sample read on both books and I must say I am glad the reactions to both books and stories have been overwhelming positive. I cannot state how much your support in my work and all my series means. Thank you from the bottom of my heart. As you can see in the picture above this is my beautiful little niece and handsome little nephew (say hello to Emerald and Xander).

By the way, I will also be helping teach them when they get older. I'm excited.

NEWS/INFORMATION

Emma Stevens and the Lord of Crime (the 1st book in The Detective Files series) may have been released in May but the news has not stopped. The sequel to the book is being worked on (along with the kid detective series and my YA fantasy series). The contest for a free signed copy of the book has been cancelled due to lack of participation but there will be another chance very soon.

So in the mean time what has happened?

Updates to the website have been added.

As a reminder samples (or rough drafts of the old crime fiction series which the adult crime fiction series is based on is completely up onto the website). And when I say rough drafts they are literally rough drafts for your enjoyment. Also samples of both the YA Series and the kid detective book is also up for your enjoyment (in PDF format). So do come and check those out.

The samples to the old crime stories can be found here:

<https://thedetectorfiles.wixsite.com/lordofcrime/articles>

The samples to the kids and YA series can be found here:

<https://thedetectorfiles.wixsite.com/lordofcrime/kid-s-corner>

Where to get my adult crime fiction book: Here:

https://www.amazon.com/Detective-Files-Emma-Stevens-Crime-ebook/dp/B07RV9JH7R/ref=sr_1_1?crid=2Ti2SHK0168PA&keywords=emma+stevens+and+the+lord+of+crime&qid=1569450680&srefix=emma+stevens+%2Caps%2C140&sr=8-1

Also do feel free to follow me here on this website and my other social media:

<https://thedetectorfiles.wixsite.com/lordofcrime>

https://twitter.com/detective_files

https://www.instagram.com/the_detective_files/

<https://www.facebook.com/guardianbuster1982>

I have previously read and reviewed many books. Do go to my website and check the reviews out and check out their works too. I will again be reviewing more books shortly so stay tuned and watch them be posted to twitter, my site, and good reads and amazon.

Have a good safe Merry Christmas and rest of the holiday season.

Jeff C Fuller MS.Ed